

FINANCIAL NEWS.

MINING SHARES. LONDON, October 5. The following are the latest quotations on the Stock Exchange: Broken Hill South, buyers 143/9, sellers 143/8.

A BUSH TRAGEDY.

A cold-blooded crime was perpetrated yesterday morning on a farm in a lonely bush, some miles from North Dandalup, in the Pinjarra district. The victim was a young married woman, Dorothy Cecilia Molnoux.

THE NILE OF AUSTRALIA.

It was natural that at the luncheon on Friday, in connection with the Remark Show, which was attended by the Governor and a Parliamentary party, and at which a long toast list was dealt with, there should be references to the important question of the conservation and utilisation of the waters of the Murray.

THE TYBONE ABANDONED.

The steamer Tybone has been abandoned in the early morning, when the seven ships stowed up on the misty east the cliffs at the harbor mouth were thick with people come to watch and welcome them, but they watched and welcomed the most patiently.

AUSTRALIA'S NAVY.

It was in serious and almost absolute silence that Sydney saw the little fleet come hunched in the early morning, when the seven ships stowed up on the misty east the cliffs at the harbor mouth were thick with people come to watch and welcome them, but they watched and welcomed the most patiently.

INDEX TO ADVERTISEMENTS.

Table listing various advertisements and their page numbers, including Amusements, Births, Marriages, and Deaths.

SHIPPING NEWS.

Arrivals: At San Francisco—Villiers, 4. Bremer, Drummond, Newcastle, At Valparaiso—Whitcomb, from Newcastle, from Hamburg.

COMMERCIAL NEWS.

Wheat. The market is inactive, but the undertone is steady, owing to the outlook in India, which is unfavorable.

THE GOVERNMENT ALERT.

It was natural that at the luncheon on Friday, in connection with the Remark Show, which was attended by the Governor and a Parliamentary party, and at which a long toast list was dealt with, there should be references to the important question of the conservation and utilisation of the waters of the Murray.

THE LOSS OF THE AMARANTH.

The steamer Amaranth, which arrived at Auckland from the islands, October 5, had the full story of the wreck on Jarvis Island of the American barquentine Amaranth.

TO-DAY'S ENGAGEMENTS.

Theatre Royal, 8—'The Graces', 'The Merry Widow', 'The Merry Widow', 'The Merry Widow', 'The Merry Widow'.

Late Advertisements.

GOLOSSEY ON the 5th October, at his residence, Newick, Clara Golossey, aged 29 years.

SOME VICTORIAN FIGURES.

Figures given by Mr. A. M. Laughton, the Government Statist, in the Victorian Year Book for 1912, show that the percentage of illegitimate children in Victoria exceeds that of England and is about the same as that of the Netherlands.

THE BAR SINISTER.

Under a section of an Act passed in 1903, an illegitimate child, whose parents were illegitimate, was not to be legitimated by the marriage of the parents.

THIRST AND A TRAGEDY.

Respecting the Gascoyne tragedy, a man named Ashton, now in the police force, states he met in April, 1912, the man who had been charged with the murder of the young woman in the Gascoyne district.

THE TASMANIAN CASE.

An inquest was held at Ulverstone yesterday on the bodies of three schoolboys, Reggie Lee, R. Sawyer, and George Leven on the previous afternoon.

A MOTOR FATILITY.

A shocking fatality occurred in a motor car on Saturday evening, when Mr. Edmund Lonsdale, member for New England in the New South Wales Parliament, was killed.

THE TYPBONE ABANDONED.

The steamer Tybone has been abandoned in the early morning, when the seven ships stowed up on the misty east the cliffs at the harbor mouth were thick with people come to watch and welcome them, but they watched and welcomed the most patiently.

THE NILE OF AUSTRALIA.

It was natural that at the luncheon on Friday, in connection with the Remark Show, which was attended by the Governor and a Parliamentary party, and at which a long toast list was dealt with, there should be references to the important question of the conservation and utilisation of the waters of the Murray.

THE TYBONE ABANDONED.

The steamer Tybone has been abandoned in the early morning, when the seven ships stowed up on the misty east the cliffs at the harbor mouth were thick with people come to watch and welcome them, but they watched and welcomed the most patiently.

AUSTRALIA'S NAVY.

It was in serious and almost absolute silence that Sydney saw the little fleet come hunched in the early morning, when the seven ships stowed up on the misty east the cliffs at the harbor mouth were thick with people come to watch and welcome them, but they watched and welcomed the most patiently.

THE GASCOYNE CASE.

Respecting the Gascoyne tragedy, a man named Ashton, now in the police force, states he met in April, 1912, the man who had been charged with the murder of the young woman in the Gascoyne district.

THE TASMANIAN CASE.

An inquest was held at Ulverstone yesterday on the bodies of three schoolboys, Reggie Lee, R. Sawyer, and George Leven on the previous afternoon.

A MOTOR FATILITY.

A shocking fatality occurred in a motor car on Saturday evening, when Mr. Edmund Lonsdale, member for New England in the New South Wales Parliament, was killed.

THE TYBONE ABANDONED.

The steamer Tybone has been abandoned in the early morning, when the seven ships stowed up on the misty east the cliffs at the harbor mouth were thick with people come to watch and welcome them, but they watched and welcomed the most patiently.

THE NILE OF AUSTRALIA.

It was natural that at the luncheon on Friday, in connection with the Remark Show, which was attended by the Governor and a Parliamentary party, and at which a long toast list was dealt with, there should be references to the important question of the conservation and utilisation of the waters of the Murray.

THE TYBONE ABANDONED.

The steamer Tybone has been abandoned in the early morning, when the seven ships stowed up on the misty east the cliffs at the harbor mouth were thick with people come to watch and welcome them, but they watched and welcomed the most patiently.

AUSTRALIA'S NAVY.

It was in serious and almost absolute silence that Sydney saw the little fleet come hunched in the early morning, when the seven ships stowed up on the misty east the cliffs at the harbor mouth were thick with people come to watch and welcome them, but they watched and welcomed the most patiently.

GENERAL CABLE NEWS.

LONDON, October 5. English Market.—The market is dull and unchanged. Liverpool business is limited to October wheat, which is quoted at 54 1/2.

THE GASCOYNE CASE.

Respecting the Gascoyne tragedy, a man named Ashton, now in the police force, states he met in April, 1912, the man who had been charged with the murder of the young woman in the Gascoyne district.

THE TASMANIAN CASE.

An inquest was held at Ulverstone yesterday on the bodies of three schoolboys, Reggie Lee, R. Sawyer, and George Leven on the previous afternoon.

A MOTOR FATILITY.

A shocking fatality occurred in a motor car on Saturday evening, when Mr. Edmund Lonsdale, member for New England in the New South Wales Parliament, was killed.

THE TYBONE ABANDONED.

The steamer Tybone has been abandoned in the early morning, when the seven ships stowed up on the misty east the cliffs at the harbor mouth were thick with people come to watch and welcome them, but they watched and welcomed the most patiently.

THE NILE OF AUSTRALIA.

It was natural that at the luncheon on Friday, in connection with the Remark Show, which was attended by the Governor and a Parliamentary party, and at which a long toast list was dealt with, there should be references to the important question of the conservation and utilisation of the waters of the Murray.

THE TYBONE ABANDONED.

The steamer Tybone has been abandoned in the early morning, when the seven ships stowed up on the misty east the cliffs at the harbor mouth were thick with people come to watch and welcome them, but they watched and welcomed the most patiently.

THE GASCOYNE CASE.

Respecting the Gascoyne tragedy, a man named Ashton, now in the police force, states he met in April, 1912, the man who had been charged with the murder of the young woman in the Gascoyne district.

THE TASMANIAN CASE.

An inquest was held at Ulverstone yesterday on the bodies of three schoolboys, Reggie Lee, R. Sawyer, and George Leven on the previous afternoon.

A MOTOR FATILITY.

A shocking fatality occurred in a motor car on Saturday evening, when Mr. Edmund Lonsdale, member for New England in the New South Wales Parliament, was killed.

THE TYBONE ABANDONED.

The steamer Tybone has been abandoned in the early morning, when the seven ships stowed up on the misty east the cliffs at the harbor mouth were thick with people come to watch and welcome them, but they watched and welcomed the most patiently.

THE NILE OF AUSTRALIA.

It was natural that at the luncheon on Friday, in connection with the Remark Show, which was attended by the Governor and a Parliamentary party, and at which a long toast list was dealt with, there should be references to the important question of the conservation and utilisation of the waters of the Murray.

THE TYBONE ABANDONED.

The steamer Tybone has been abandoned in the early morning, when the seven ships stowed up on the misty east the cliffs at the harbor mouth were thick with people come to watch and welcome them, but they watched and welcomed the most patiently.

AUSTRALIA'S NAVY.

It was in serious and almost absolute silence that Sydney saw the little fleet come hunched in the early morning, when the seven ships stowed up on the misty east the cliffs at the harbor mouth were thick with people come to watch and welcome them, but they watched and welcomed the most patiently.

Advertisement for BUCHANAN'S BLEND WHISKY, featuring a bottle illustration and text: 'THE FINEST OLD SCOTCH WHISKY'. Includes contact information for W. & G. DOUGLASS, 53-55 LIVERPOOL STREET, SYDNEY.